MANNY,
Thanx for the intro.
Monè! I don't know what I would have done without you this year.
You have no idea what you have been there agreat feeling it is to have someone beable to know you inside & out & someone who you could tell your life story to w/out being laughed at, no matter how wierd the whole thing sounds -
And you know how wierd I can get!!! ☺ So much to say and so little time to realize my feelings and how I'm feeling! We've always been there and I talked to dad & you know and let me know that you knew what I was feeling. I'll never forget it. I love you Always, Michelle (3:12)

HeHanny-
Was it just loads of fun in Biology.
I hope it will be just as fun and exciting in my Advanced Biology. Maybe Mr. Beatty will come back & teach - wouldn't that be just terrific. Welp, now you a big upperclassman, a real dude, a junior.
Have fun!
your sophomore friend
Kinzl

Dear Mannie, Yoire a really cool, funny guy. Have a rad summer and don't forget me!
Lisa Butler

Have a great summer. It's been a great- Luv U

MANNY

Manny,
I met you at a really nice (a little weird but that's good) Wasn't the movie good that we saw! Ha! Ha!
I want to say that I hope to see you sometime this summer. I am no longer a freshman!!!! Have a great summer your friend!

The good times

Some call it insanity. Others call it good clean fun. Whatever it's called, the Los Altos Eagles have a strong inclination towards it. Los Altos students, in the midst of their academic and athletic excellence, love to show who they are, be different, have fun, and act a little crazy. We on the staff of the 1985 Aerie don't feel we would be doing our student body justice if we didn't begin this yearbook, a memory of our times together, with a reminder of this funloving attitude which we all share.

Amy and Scott reign on our parade

Although the festivities of Homecoming 1984 were overshadowed by clouds and drizzles, the day started out right with the traditional senior-sponsored breakfast. Those who arrived early found the quad artistically dressed with boxer shorts to support the football team, and were entertained by the original music of "Jerry and the Wannabeez".

After shortened classes, the traditional downtown parade took place. The 1984 parade had a few minor diversions. Among reckless drivers and sudden changes in the planned route, Mother Nature had the nerve rain on our parade.

Some bright aspects to the damp weather were t complete routing of Gunn High School by our Eagles, 4 6, and the history-making third consecutive win in t float competition for the class of 1985. Their theme w "Gunn Control: Lose to Gunn, Go to Prison." In addition these great happenings, Her Royal Highness Amy Carl ton and His Royal Majesty Scott Rounds revealed th class and sovereign leadership.

Marching band, a unit bonded by friendship and a common love for music, enjoyed a season of fun and challenging competition. A pleasant weekend at camp Loma Mar allowed old members to reunite and new members to make new friends. The band had the honor of playing for President Reagan at DeAnza College during his campaign rally.

The band carried out its usual duties to the community, but with unusual flair. The lively and exciting music of the band added to the fascination of both the Mountain View and the Los Altos Homecoming parades. At Pacific Grove competiton, the band warmed the rainy day by taking home five shiny trophies: 1st place in field competition and 4th place in parade for the band; 2nd place in parade for the drill team; and the talented majorette Amy Lund took 3rd place in both field and parade competition. The marching season ended with a thrilling trip to Disney Land where the band worked with Mickey Mouse in bringing smiles to people's faces, with its music.

Drum major Carol Kenny proudly announced "Our band has progressed a great deal; they have done an excellent job." Band director Kienberger added with a smile, "It was a successful year, because everyone had it in his heart to make it a great year!"

Regalia is the Tall Flag unit of the LAHS Eagle Marching Band. In addition to performing with the band, Regalia members attended USA camp at UC Santa Cruz, participated in the opening ceremonies of Olympic soccer at Stanford University, and entertained at the rally for President Reagan.

Regalia received a 2nd place trophy in a field of nineteen competitors at Pacific Grove. Tall Flag team captain is LoAnne Stone. Other members are Dawn Betterly, Rosa Ferrigno, Jill Griffin, DeeDee Lau, Beth Rosenthal, and Heidi Seiter.

Besides the typical winter sports, the Eagles busied themselves with a flurry of other activities. December began with the Bi-school Student Exchange. Los Altos students relinquished their regular classes and spent the day at new Mountain View High School, accompanied by a Mountain View student. The process was reversed later in the week, as LA took its turn as host.

After a week of collecting assorted clothes, toys, and food, the Christmas Exchange class competition came to a point. Under the direction of Health teacher and enthusiastic humanist Walt Gaffney, thousands of dollars worth of goods were collected for 800 needy families in the area. The senior class was commended for having contributed the most, after David Finswaith and Dave Randall went door to door, filling an entire pick-up truck. To celebrate the occasion, the annual Holiday Faire was held, featuring student-made crafts, computer dating, and culinary delights representing varied cultures. To top the day off, the Junior class sponsored the annual Winter Ball, with music provided by "The Traveling Bandstand."

ASB And Senate Govern School

Working for a better school, ASB and Senate sponsored activities and fundraisers. Through ASB card sales, the council was able to provide funding to athletics, clubs and fun activities, like stag dances, the Holiday Fair, Homecoming and rallies. With events such as Teacher Appreciation week, Alcohol Awareness week and Sports Appreciation week, ASB worked to improve community perceptions of Los Altos High School. Another focus of student government this year was improved relations with rival Mountain View. Through Bi-School President's council, co-chaired by the student representatives to the school board, students from both schools organized events, like the Bi-School Student Exchange, that further helped to relieve tensions between the schools.

Including over one hundred members, Senate provided a much broader opinion base from which to build a strong representative student government. With a representative from each English class and many at-large members, Senate actively helped to pass the budget and contributed valuable input into decisions affecting the student body.

Officers achieve impressive leadership

The Underclass Officers achieved their main goal of establishing class unity and identity.

The flower parties not only helped build Homecoming floats, but also helped the students learn to get along with one another. Fund raisers filled the classes' treasuries, and set up a sense of responsibility for the students. The freshmen and sophomores earned money mainly from bake sales. The juniors benefited from bake sales, cleaning the city Los Altos, and the successful Winter Ball. The juniors have around $1,000 in their account, to be used for the prom and the senior picnic next year.

With regular meetings throughout the year, and the help of faculty advisors, the success of the Underclass Officers did not come as a surprise. Mr. Guinasso was adviser to the freshmen, Mrs. Freelen to the sophomores, and Mrs. Montoro to the juniors.

Senior Council and Cabinet keep things organized

Throughout the year, the five-member Senior Council worked with the goal of a great senior prom in mind. During homecoming week, they supervised the activity of float-building and organized the senior-sponsored breakfast. Other fundraisers included bake sales and dances.

In February, interested seniors were enlisted in the Senior Cabinet. Its first activity was to run the sold-out senior concert. The group continued by helping out with the senior picnic, and finished the year by organizing the senior prom.

Seniors put on the hits

Following Los Altos High tradition, the 1985 Senior Concert was a sold out success, enjoyed both by parents and students.

The action began with an exciting slide show, followed by the live group "The Sound." "Jerry and the Wannabeez" were also present to perform live for their many Los Altos fans.

The concert rocked on for three hours as seniors mimicked groups such as Peter Gabriel, The Scorpions, The Time, Madonna, The Monkees, The Tokens, Oingo Boingo, The Angels, Devo, The Rascals, and many more. Serving as emcees, Eric Thompson, Scott Rounds, Rich Gillern, and Kevin Sanchez kept the action going. Skits such as "Death of a Librarian" kept the laughs rolling, too.

Finally, to top the evening off, the seniors gathered together to sing "Louie, Louie," ending a great evening of fun, laughs, and music.

The Music Plays On

Symphonic and Concert bands continued the traditional sounds of music at Los Altos High School. A committed Jazz band was also formed for the first time in our history.

These bands brought pleasant melodies to the public at three concerts per year. Symphonic band was invited to join the Foothill College Symphonic band, in concert at Foothill auditorium. Seven students were elected to the county honor band: Peter Blackie, Phillip Chou, Stuart Elefant, Darlene Franz, Lisa Kanetake, Melanie Means, and Monica Rosser. Kanetake and Rosser were chosen first principal chair in state honor band. Director Kienberger was confident that the bands would receive superior ratings at the California Music Educational Association Festival.

The vocal groups at Los Altos High underwent a change of leadership this year: Mr. Mark A. Shaull is the new choral music director. The growth of the choral music program was tremendous. Chorale doubled its size to sixty people with a well balanced men's section. Girl's Ensemble, a new group of singers, was also formed.

Chorale, Girls' Ensemble, and Harmattan sang many times, including a successful concert at Los Altos United Methodist Church in December. The talented Harmattan group alone gave over twenty public performances. Harmattan also participated in the Foothill Jazz Festival and in the Columbia Festival. Of the success of these singers, Mr. Schaull commented "With its talents and potential the group has progressed to be one of the finest groups around."

TET celebrates New Year's

Vietnamese students from both Moutain View and Los Altos High Schools celebrated the Vietnamese New year by presenting the program Cung Chuc Tan Xuan at the Moutain View Commons. For the second year, students provided their audience with four hours of entertainment. The celebration included dancing and music in addition to a short intermission during which Vietnamese food was sold. Commencing with both the American and the Vietnamese national anthems, the show consisted of traditional activities such as the Dragon Dance and the God of the Kitchen's Report. Indeed, the "year of the Ox" began with flying colors.

These pages represent some of Los Altos High's students who take their studies seriously. The National Merit Semifinalists earn this distinction by scoring in the top one half percent of the United States on the Preliminary SAT. Other students were commended for scoring in the next one percent.

The Academic Decathalon Team spent many after-school hours studying for head to head competition with other schools. In countywide competition, they finished second in their division.

On a lighter note, trivia enthusiasts devoted one weekend searching forgotten corners of libraries for answers to irrelevant questions. All these students have proven their academic prowess.

Block LA, GAL, And Football Clubs Supply The Spirit Behind The Sports

The Block LA Club, or Letterman's Club, consisted of those male athletes who have received a varsity letter. This year, the club's primary function was to give this elite group of athletes a chance to discuss their athletic interests and meet regularly. Under Advisor Bob Baird, the club helped to promote athletics throughout the year.

GAL, Girl's Athletic League, was a club whose main purpose was to promote girl's athletics. This year, the GAL again sponsored the awards banquets in the Fall, Winter, and Spring where awards were given to the most deserving female athletes. Besides these events, the club sponsored many fundraisers including the Sadie's dance in order to help purchase supplies for the athletes. The club was led by Mrs. Johnson, Advisor; Melinda Beckenhaur, President; and six other elected officers.

The Football Club involved all those who played varsity football with the officers being those seniors chosen for the Senior Committee. Events which the club sponsored included pizza dinners and pre-game meals of pasta and steak. Also, the club helped the players to get "psyched up" for games through its function as a morale booster which helped this season to be so successful.

BAYO, MESA, And Vietnamese Clubs For The Betterment Of Cultural Awareness

The Black American Youth Organization (formerly called Black Student Union) is advised by Marion Winters and Ric Ricard. The club centers its activities around Black History Month. During February BAYO leads the school in creating a greater awareness of the black community and honoring Martin Luther King's Birthday.

MESA, an organization sponsored by Stanford University and local industry, is designed for minority students who are interested in pursuing a math or science related career. These college bound students participate in field trips to various industries, visits to local universities, presentations by engineers and scientists, incentive award activities, and tutorial sessions to promote academic excellence.

*BAYO MEMBERS: A. Goodspeed, S. Washington, K. Brooks, D. Nables, A. Willis, E. Bolden, T. Willis, B. Sparks, L. Scott, G. Willis. MESA MEMBERS: S. Lopez, G. Douglas, S. Sanchez, E. Alvarez, N. The Vietnamese Club was organized by a group of students who wish to maintain their culture and language as well as to share this cultural pride with the general student body. The club's major activity is the organization of the TET Vietnamese New Year Celebration. This series of events includes a cultural presentation, a panel discussion and slide show, films, and the sale of traditional Vietnamese foods.

CSF, Strategic Games, And Drama Clubs Excel In Diverse Activities

California Scholarship Federation, CSF, was one of the largest clubs this year with over 300 members and was by far the largest academically oriented club on campus. The main purpose of the club was to furnish distinguished students with scholarships which could be used toward their future education. Through the high grades needed to become a member, the club showed its stress on academic achievement. By attaining high grades in designated courses for four or more semesters, one earns the title, "Gold Seal Graduate." Of this year's graduating class, less than 60 will be honored as such. With the organization of Advisor Joe McMahon, the club had another efficient and successful year. To conclude the year with tradition, CSF volunteers again ushered at graduation.

Led by Advisor Doug Bailey, the Strategic Games Clu provided an informal yet stimulating lunchtime settin where people could match wits with other game pla ers. The gatherings were held everyday in Mr. Bailey room where anyone interested in strategic games cou relax, play, and eat lunch. While the games featured th year included Risk, Stratego, Chess, and Cribbage, o ten, members invented their own games such as 'C pruss'. Of the many people who stopped by during th year, there were about twenty "regulars" including Ma thew Kaufman who commented, "It's a neat place t eat my lunch. I know lots of people here that I can pla games with."

Drama

The Drama Club led by new advisor, Mr. Peterson, had another successful year. The club was designed to allow its members to increase and perfect their acting techniques. This year, the club put on many shows in and out of the high school. One of the club's main goals was to raise money which could be used toward expenses, especially buying tickets for other performances in the area. Besides seeing local performances, the club even went to see major productions in San Francisco.

Asian, French, Model U.N. Clubs Broaden Worldwide Interests

With more than twenty members, the Asian Club was one of the fastest growing clubs this year. This large membership allowed the club to support more activities and extensively discuss their cultural interests. Led by Mr. Rogers, advisor, and Carol Lee, president, the club featured many exciting events throughout the year.

These included numerous bake sales and a special Holiday Faire sale which featured their famous "Turkey Curry." Also the club was able to plan and take a trip to San Francisco to learn more about their Asian Heritage. Finally among their major activities, the club helped to encourage interest in an exchange program with a sister city in Japan.

Model United National gave students the opportunity to learn how the United Nations operates. In order to increase their knowledge of international politics, the club attended a conference in December at Santa Teresa High School. Besides this activity, the club was involved in many politically oriented exercises throughout the year. These included debates, political rallies, and field trips to various epicurean establishments. Thus, as representatives of the Zimbabwe commonwealth, McDonaldland, the members gained Political awareness and endeavored to explore the field of gastronomy.

Asian Club

French Club

To fulfill their interests in French language and culture, French Club participated in many activities during the year. The club visited and critiqued French restaurants and films. French club also held many fund raisers to establish a scholarship that was given to an outstanding student who has shown a unique interest in French studies. Therefore, the club allowed its members the opportunity to increase their understanding of the French ways of life while improving their mastery of the French language in a friendly setting.

Interact, AFS, Peer Counseling: Enriching Themselves And The Lives Of Others.

Interact Club

The Rotary sponsored Interact Club was reorganized this year and boasted the largest membership ever. With faculty advisor Frank Bonzell, and club president Ari Laliotis, guiding its course through the year, the Interact Club continually worked to promote its "service above self" motto. The club showed services in the community, school, and world, participating in a variety of programs to show their dedication to serving the world.

These activities included the sponsoring of a needy youth in a foreign country, Christmas caroling at nursing homes, community clean-up days and also, the Interact "Service above Self" award. It was this commitment to helping others that allowed the Interact Club to have one of its most successful years.

AFS, American Field service, once again provided the opportunity for foreign students to visit America while staying in the homes of local families. The club's other purpose is to select Los Altos students that will be fortunate enough to go abroad and spend time in a foreign country.

This year, three exchange students attended Los Altos, Helen Russell from New Zealand, Natasa Lukic from Yugoslavia, and Yvette Perodou from France. Three Los Altos students living abroad were Pam Clarke who went to Peru, Kathy Volk who went to Holland, and Nancy McKee who went to Denmark.

Under the leadership of advisor, Emily Goodheart, and president Jacqueline Watney, the club built a homecoming float, hosted an international weekend and organized the traditional international dinner. These were just a few highlights of the year among AFS' busy though exciting schedule.

*TOP: Members of AFS: ROW 1: J. Riddle, C. Platt, P. Fancy, L. Kauh, S. Ghaffari, P. Lipson, A. Cheng, S. Hankins, A. Nogy, T. Geelen, N. Lukic. ROW 2: K. Morely, S. Tashihashi, A. Dorquet, H. Led by advisor Marcy Freelen, Peer Counselors involved themselves in many different activities. Working towards their goal of greater unity among students, they helped in freshmen orientation and for the first time at Los Altos High, instigated a big brothers and sisters week.

Throughout the year, Peer Counseling continued to help new and old students adjust to Los Altos life. Besides meeting regularly at school, the club often met on Sundays and even on trips to Pajaro Dunes. The club as a whole gave dislocated people a place to turn and at the same time, gave each member a sense of pride and accomplishment.

L.A. Times And Computer Club Print And Process Information.

Under the guidance of Dave Allan, the newspaper staff worked diligently to perfect the L.A. Times. Mr. Allan's supervision, coupled with the excellent leadership of Editor in Chief, Melinda Beckenhauer, the monthly issues of the newspaper excelled in quality. Students appreciated the informative nature of the L.A. Times and due to its wide circulation, many students were able to read and enjoy the newspaper. In the words of one student, "The L.A. Times was and always will be a memorable part of Los Altos."

Growing interest in computers resulted in the formation of the Computer Club. Each member showed a great interest in high-technology and business. Every member contributed to the success of the club with his innovative ideas and creative skills.

Keeping the club well organized, the head o the club, Dale Loia, and advisor, Michael Stern also helped students in need of computer skills Special field trips to Silicon Valley as well as listening to prominent speakers were among the club's more memorable experiences. Although this was the Computer Club's first year, with the success it has demonstrated, it will surely become a permanent club at Los Altos High.

Upper Right: Members of the Computer Club: ROW 1: A Talcott, L. Liu, M. Kaufman, D. Hattula, D. Loia, S. Shapiro, M Mitchell. ROW 2: D. Wells, M. Williams, A. Gopal, J. Mistry, A Kanemoto, M. Chackerian, T. Sramek, G. Herbert, Mr. Stern

Representatives to girls and boys state, Amy Carleton and Jack Mohr participated in a week long conference in Sacramento where they experienced California government first hand. At the conference, they elected state officials and passed mock laws as though they were California legislators.

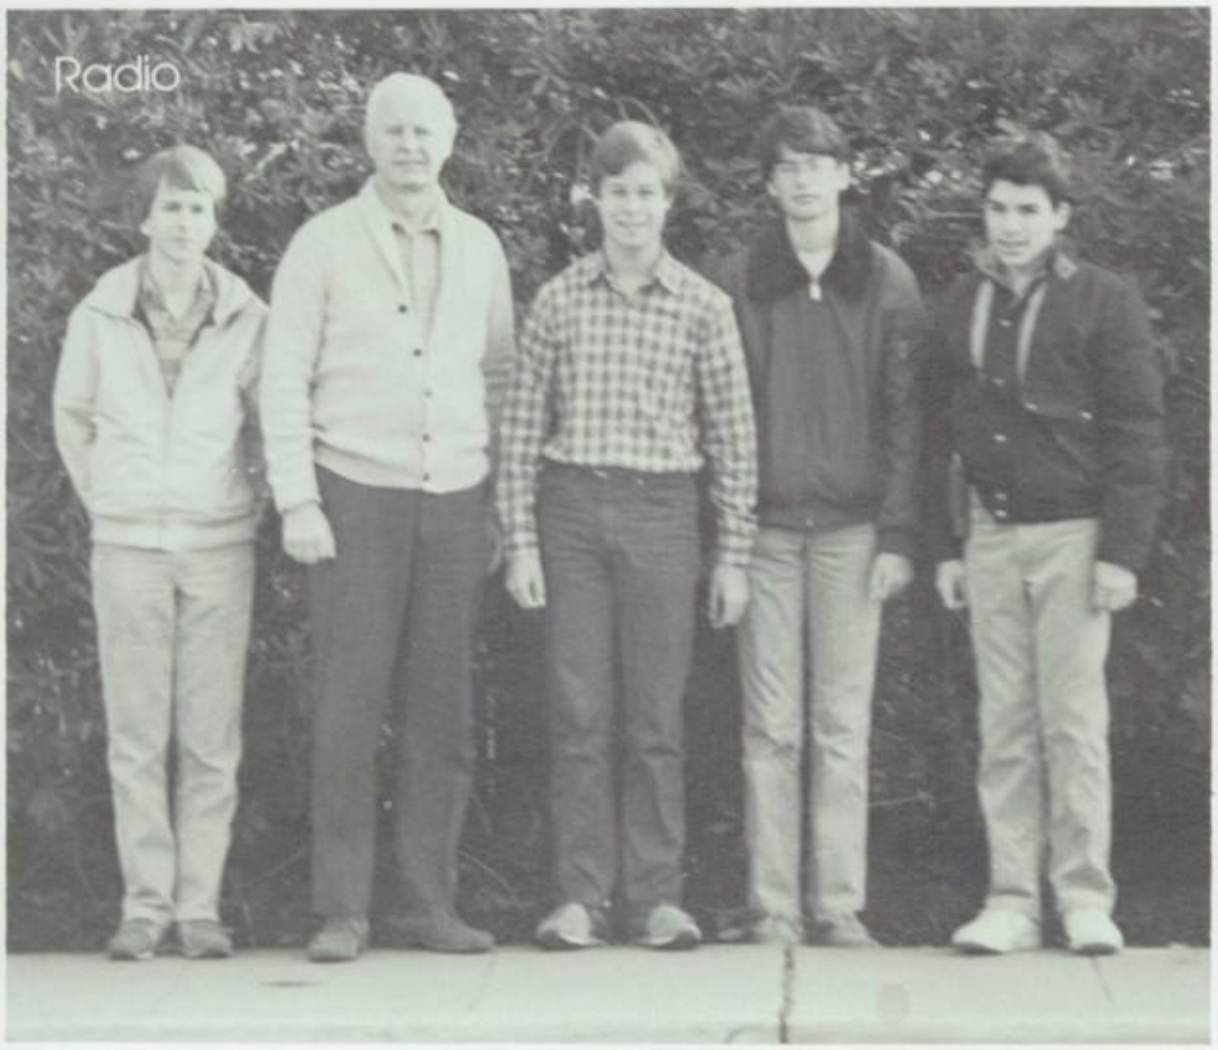
The week was a time for them to take a break from school in a fun yet educational atmosphere. Upon her return Amy stated that Girls State is valuable experience because " ... You learn so much more when you are doing it rather than just reading about it."

Junior State, German And Radio Clubs Communicate In Very Different Ways.

The largest club on campus, Junior State has the potential to be a major force at Los Altos. The goal of this chapter was to encourage students to learn about politics and current issues which affect them. In addition, Junior State hoped that students would actively participate in debating & learning to express their opinions. Highlights were the Fall and Spring conventions, overnights with speakers, lectures, workshops and debates. According to co-presidents Vicki Cabot and Jeannie Russell, Junior State hopes eventually to become a major influence on campus. With the help of civics teacher Mr. Bower, Junior State provided an opportunity for students to become more aware of what is going on in the world outside Los Altos High School.

German club, one of this year's new clubs, helped broaden student understanding of Germany, and enabled them to learn more about German people and their culture. Some of the activities were making and selling those delicious German candy houses and participating in the Holiday Faire. Club members went to German films and plays. Leaders were Heidi Seiter, president; Sarah Williams and April Nogy, vice presidents; and Esther Kloeppel, secretary treasurer, with Mrs. B. Sarraf advisor.

Junior State



With communication as its main emphasis, the Radio club once again provided its members with an opportunity to obtain their Amateur Radio Novice License. With persistance and hard work, the members were involved in extensive studies in electronics and electronic theories. Also, the club allowed its members to practice morse code sending and receiving so that they could reach the five words per minute requirement for anyone who wants to get a license. As a member says, "Although it's hard work, it's extremely rewarding when after all that preparing, the ticket finally comes." Again, the major attraction of the year was Field Day. It occured in June in a remote location where radio users from around the world competed to see who could make the most "Contacts" within a 24 hour period.

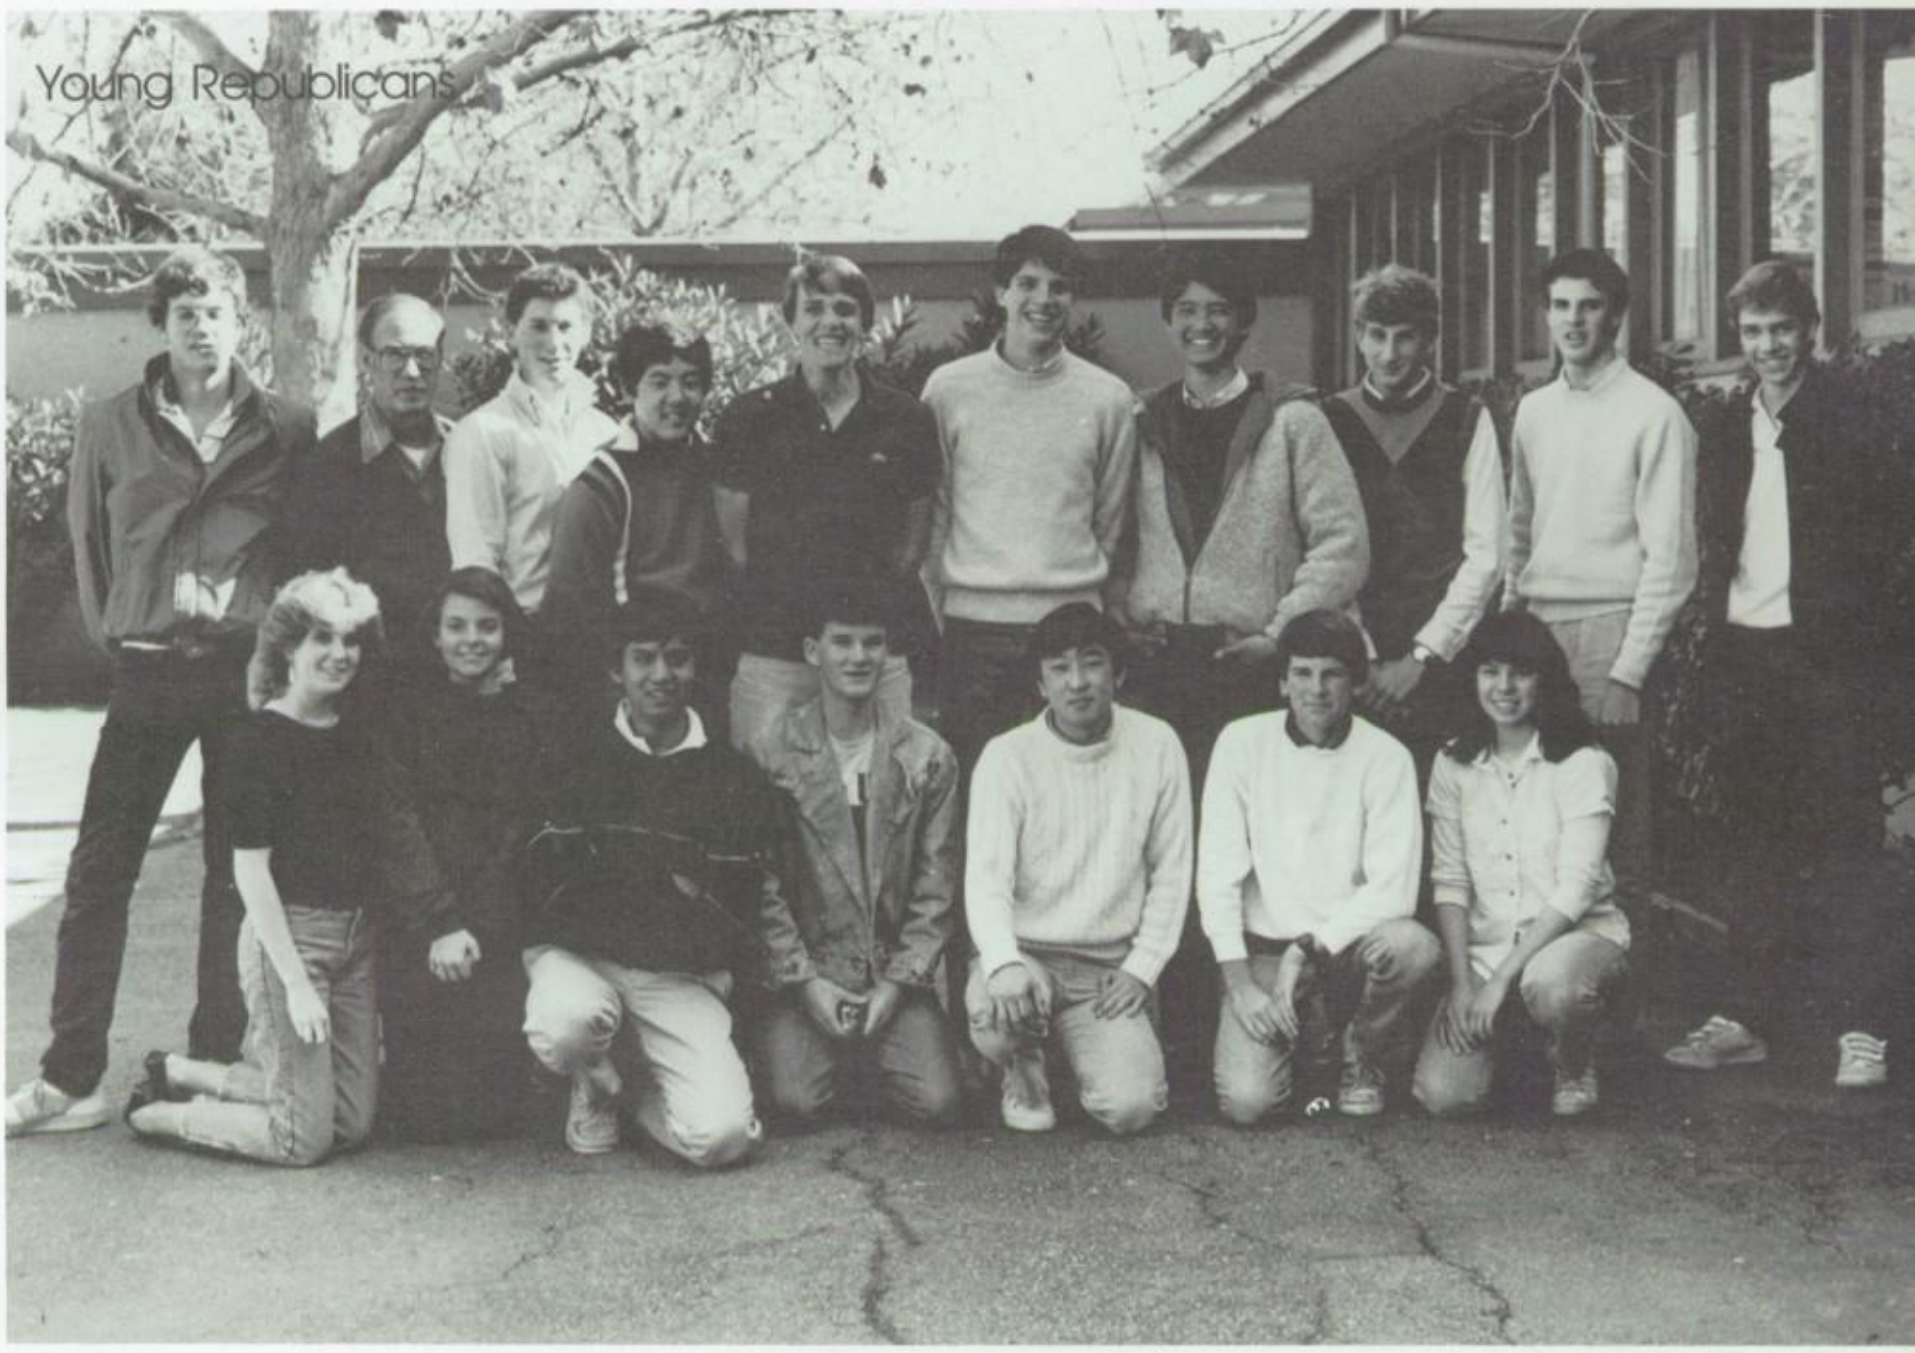
Young Republicans And Transcript Boosters Engage In Politics And Disinformation



The Young Republicans Club, a newly formed special interest club, gave students the opportunity to learn about and take part in the Republican Party. Led by advisor, Howard Dienger, the club received G.O.P. credit for its participation. The club's activities included fundraisers for the G.O.P., setting up registration desks, and precinct walks. Besides these activities, the club heard many politicians speak in and out of school. Robert Walker, a director of the party for Santa Clara County, spoke on modern politics. While the year was filled with hard work and dedication, the club found time to relax on a canoe trip down the American River to cap off the year.

The Transcript Boosters Club directed its attention to improving its members' college transcripts. Claire "Write me a recommendation" Pelton, the club's advisor, gave the club physical, mental, and spiritual support. In its first year of existence, the club was highly successful with over 60 members, making it one of the largest on campus. Throughout its first and last meeting, the club upheld its motto, "Co-President positions for all." Although the club was a big success already, it is sure to grow with time as long as colleges require extracurricular activities. Mrs. Pelton or Grand Pooh Bah, as she was often referred to, summed up the club as being "unique in all my 29 years of teaching."

Eagles Take Charge

The 1985 version of Los Altos Varsity football began the season picked to win the division. The team practiced hard, anticipating a glorious year. In order to build team unity, the Eagles had the first ever over-night football camp, in which they ate, slept, and practiced together in an intense training atmosphere. In addition to the football camp, there were the Chris McClure pizza nights and some pre-game dinners. Many newspapers predicted the team to be one of the best in its division.

Despite its efforts, the team was plagued by injuries, which resulted in a shortage of linemen. This shortage caused the team to resort to a 4-4 defense. This defense was something new for L.A.; in turn, it took some time to adjust.

The year started out with some strong victories, largely aided by the hard work of Tyler Burke, Dave Mason, and Mark Whelan, among many others. Opposing teams soon realized the vital key Tyler played in L.A.'s offense; thus these teams began to nullify his attack. Now the team had to rely on its own merits. After a few "transition" games, the Los Altos Eagles began to get back on their feet. Working through a line handicapped by small size and injuries, the L.A. team came back to complete the year with 6 wins and 4 losses.

JV Works Toward Future

Lead by team captains: Reid Hanson, Greg Mintz, Ron Newman and Neal Stratz, all sophomores, the JV football team met some stiff competition from the other league competitors. Ending the season with a league record of 1-4-1, the team, half of which are freshmen, showed that Los Altos will have strong teams in the years to come.

Coach Steve Schaumleffel commented that the team's record was not representative of its quality. Schaumleffel said that the team was "close in all of the games" and was hurt by some "inoportune errors". Schaumleffel added that in the next two years Los Altos should be a real "power in the league".

Four players on the team received all-league honors. Linebacker Ron Newman was named to the first team all-league. Second team all-league honors went to running back Gary Clarke, safety Reid Hanson and tight end Dan Rohde, respectively.

Jumping Towards State Championship

As demonstrated in years before, the girls varsity and JV volleyball team showed their superiority in league competiton. Ending the season with a 32-2 record, the varsity team showed their usual rivals, Gunn and Mountain View, how strong their players really are.

For the second year in a row, the varsity team defeated Fremont, and went all the way to the state championships, where they placed third. The team chose Melinda Beckenhauer MVP, and the coach's award went to Gail Mohr and Julieanne Kost for their inspiration on and off the court.

Coach Harold Yada is looking forward to another successful year, with many strong young players moving up to varsity.

GO MV

LA Cross Country came through to win first place at SCVAL, defeating Gunn by one point. Led by veteran coach Alex Paszkeicz, both the boys' and girls' teams finished a strong season.

At first, the large turnout of returning seniors suggested a strong upperclass varsity team. Surprisingly, however, the energetic freshmen and sophomores began to pre-empt the veterans as the season wore on. Notable underclassmen included the outstanding Christian Lowe, Kelly Moore and Peter Cazalet.

The seniors were not without merit, however. At the League Meet, the senior - dominant open division managed to win a majority of the first ten places, clearly a rout.

The girls team, though lacking in members, was exploding with talent. When they could muster a full team of five, the girls placed well in their meets. Notable girls included Tracy Paaso and Kerry Rohan, both long-time runners.

When asked what he thought about the future of the team, Coach Paszkeicz optimistically replied, "If we can get all our runners out, we could have our strongest team ever next year." In a word, Los Altos Cross Country was astounding.

Field Hockey Grows Stronger

Our girls field hockey teams showed vast improvement this year. Though not advancing to a title in CCS, the young teams grew stronger and are expected to have even better results next year. Varsity's spirit was led by their elected Most Valuable Players, Sonia Sandigo and Helen Russell. The junior varsity team fared even better than varsity this year, and we have high hopes for next year's teams.

LA Swims To Win

Led by coach Lise Wiscavage, the 1984 girls swim team lead a very productive season. Varsity had league record of 4-2, third in SCVAL; junior varsity had a 5-1 league record, second in SCVAL. In CCS, the 400 Freestyle relay: Kim Bieber, Pam Lipson, Kara Morely, and Libby Rydell, placed an impressive tenth in finals. Divers also had a successful season; junior Becky Ashton placed tenth in CCS finals, and sophomore Hillary Hubbard placed eighteenth. Kim Bieber was chosen MVP for Varsity and Kara Morely was chosen MIP for Varsity. For JV, Pam Lipson was chosen MVP and Caryn Platt was chosen MIP. Although the team is very young, they have much energy and spirit; the team is looking forward to the 1985 season.

Tennis Exceeds Its Goals

Although the girls tennis team was not expecting a very successful season, they achieved an impressive victory. Turning out second in League with a record of six wins and one loss, they were beat only by Gunn.

Jennifer Plant, who was the CCS singles champion, was voted Most Valuable Player. Maria Park and Trang Nugyen were the Most Improved Players.

Coach Vieira says the team has "definitely improved" and they "more than achieved" their goals. He was very impressed with the team's attitude and performance. He was well pleased with their "outstanding" season.

Aquajocks Show Improvement

Starting the season with seven returning seniors, the varsity water polo team proved to be a threat. The team ended with a record of seven wins and five losses. The team is vastly improving and hopes to be a threat next year.

Some outstanding players on the varsity team were Kevin Sayer, MVP, Rob Boyd and Dave Stiff who were selected all league. Hans Almgren received MIP.

The J.V. team was filled with promising young players. Cris Barrett and Doug Meades showed great improvement while Tony Jeahnicien showed outstanding ability in the pool. The girls Leigh Odenweller, Tory Perkocha, Jennifer Dabberdt and Molly Nicholas showed the guys that girls can play, and survive, in the sport of water polo.

but keeps on shooting

Though somewhat inconsistent during preseason play, varsity basketball this year came away from the Chico Tournament with second place. The team was off to a good start and played several close games. One game in particular against rival team Mountain View went through two overtimes, finally ending with Los Altos on top. Unfortunately, towards the end of the season, sickness weakened the team and the Eagles ended the season with a league record of 5-7 and an overall record of 10-12.

Considering that this year's team had only four returning players, the team did well, beating last year's record by two games. The strength of this year's team lay in juniors Robyn Todd and Scott Kiburis and senior Mark Palma. In addition to all the new juniors on the team, Los Altos gained a new coach, Earl White. According to one team member, Coach White "has a good attitude, knows the game well, and cares for his players." With at least eight returning juniors along with strong junior varisty players, next year's team promises to finish very strong.

Led by Reid Hansen and Rich Nakano, this year's JV team had a winning season. Second year coach Clair Dietz helped his team to victory many times throughout the season. Several JV players are capable of making worthy contributions as varsity players next year.

Boys' soccer heads to CCS

As predicted by last year's team, this year's boys' varsity soccer did extremely well. With a league record of 8-3-1, the team finished in second place and made it to round two in CCS. The team's strength, as one player stated "was balanced by both the offense and defense." Leading the forward line was junior Alex Montano, winner of all-league MVP, and senior Marvin Quesada. Their defensive counterparts were Jim Stuart, team MVP, and Lauren Rauch. Along with the great accomplishment of their league play, several members were given the honor of playing on two all-league teams. These players were Alex Montano, Jim Stuart, Lauren Rauch, Chris White, Erik Lantz, and Marvin Quesada. As one long time soccer fan put it, "This year's team was exciting to watch." With several returning players, next year's team promises to continue this year's excellence.

The JV team also did well, placing second in their league play. With players Ian Chan, Todd Hyver and Manny Griffin, the team should do well in the future.

Girl's Basketball Dribbles To Victory

The varsity team hit a new high this season, posting its first league victory in six years. Coached by Hank Wallis, the girls proved that hours of hard work and true dedication can lead to success. Led by seniors Cindy Crouch, Carol Lee, and Libby Rydell, the team charged to victories over Milpitas and Palo Alto. The young varsity team, which included only three seniors, should prove to be even stronger next year, banking on the talents of Suzanne Kooyers and Michelle Tanaka.

The JV team, coached by Frank Dirksen, improved much this year, making progress toward the future. The team was led by sophomores Wendy Cheli and Lan Tran. Cheli spent the later part of the season playing on the varsity squad.

Soccer Boots To Victory

During the 1984-85 girls soccer season, the teams showed tenacity and spirit. Despite many injuries, the Varsity team began a competitive season. Coach Diana Bishop stated, "Although our league record was not as good as anticipated, I feel the girls had a strong season." Under the leadership of team captains, Nancy Phares and Jeannie Russell, the team proved to be both challenging and competitive.

The JV team, led by coach Ali McCargo, also had a very exciting season. The team was led by Hillary Hubbard and Katrina Dornig. Comprised of freshmen and sophomores, the players will provide more than adequate talent necessary to fill the eight positions that will be open next year.

LA Wrestling Rebuilds

Once again led by a new coach, the 1984-85 wrestling team was plagued by a small turnout. Although the sport lacks the popularity of past years, many spectators came to watch the small team compete.

Under the direction of coach Doug Boyett, the team improved vastly toward the end of the season. Even though the team lacked the membership to win more than one match, there were many individual victories. Senior Kevin Cory, who has been a outstanding wrestler since his freshman year, enjoyed a successful season in the 121 pound weight class. Dave Nicholson, also a senior, defeated a majority of his opponents in the 148 pound division. Despite the team's 1-3-1 record, the team members were positive about the season. First year wrestler Len Israelev remarked, "I really enjoyed the season and had a great time."

Young members of the team show great potential. There is no doubt that freshman Erik Wolfers and sophomore Ken Elefant will have a great season next year.

Competition Sets Standard

In the spirit of competition, the LA track teams worked to maintain quality performances.

Although the girls' team did not have the numbers it could have used for depth, it fielded high caliber athletes. The returning athletes have set their own precedent with Melinda Beckenhauer in the weight department, Tracy Paaso in distance, Heidi Robison in sprints, and Samantha Shaver in triple jump. If this is any indication of the shape of things to come, Los Altos should have more exciting track seasons ahead.

On the guys' team, newcomer Mike Croel was a particularly outstanding sprinter. Mike proved to be extremely helpful. Returning athletes, Tyler Burke, Jack Mohr, and John Mackay were back at hurdles, weights, and pole vault. They were possible contenders in the higher levels of competition of CCS and State.

Coach Harold Yada perceived the team to be "doing well in individual events-with great potential in the young returning athletes." As far as enthusiasm and spirit were concerned, the athletes felt that it was the support of each other that really made all the training worthwhile and the competition that much more satisfying.

Gymnasts Display Dedication And Talent

Hoping to compete its way to CCS, the gymnastics team had an optimistic outlook at the start of their season. Coach Monica Lodge commented, "If everything goes right, we should definitely take SCVAL. We should be in the top two in CCS."

The varsity team hopes to win SCVAL for its fourth year in a row. For seniors on the team, this would make it their fourth victorious year.

This year's team promised to be a formidable force against opposing competition. With many dedicated returning gymnasts, and several promising new ones, Los Altos was a tough team to beat!

Tennis Swings Towards CCS

With the top five players graduated, it was very competitive for the Boy's Varsity Tennis team to be a Central Coast Section defending champion this year. Even with tough opponents such as Gunn, the young team won six matches at the beginning of the season. With a reputation as one of the top five teams in CCS, along with excellent players like sophomore Kenji Hashimoto and freshman Tim Sheehan, coach Lowe was confident that the team would make it to CCS this year.

Coached by Mr. Vieira, the Junior Varsity tennis team was a hardworking and dedicated young group. Undefeated early in the season, the challenge grew heavier when Los Altos took on St. Francis, Bellarmine, and Gunn. The team directed its aggression and spirit towards competing in the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League. Coach Vieira predicted that the team would place first or second in the SCVAL.

Softball Swings Into Action

Under third year coach, Hank Wallis, the varsity softball team got off to a swinging start. Returning with the strenghth of the entire starting lineup, the team was able to begin league play with a 4-2 preseason record. The team's positive attitude and great enthusiasm enabled them to relax and play to the best of their ability. Throughout the season they faced many obstacles such as injuries, tough teams, and the length of the outfield grass, but as coach Wallis said, "Our strength basically lies in our defense," so the team was highly competitive in league play.

When JV softball coach Nancy Alvarez first came out to practice, she knew she had "a very good team." The sophomore dominated team had average or above-average players at every position. This able-bodied team expected to finish well in the league.

Baseball Makes A Hit

This year's baseball teams got off to strong starts, winning all their pre-season games. Captain of the Varsity team, Bill Abbey, stated that the team had high expectations, with an overall strong point in hitting. It was a young team, consisting mostly of juniors, and hopes for next year's team soared high. Outstanding seniors included Bill Abbey, Marc Gaal and Bill Foland, with Jay Jensky a big aid in pitching. Juniors Dee Price, Marc Cavallero and John John Gabriel are among those expected to lead the team next year. Both varsity and junior varsity teams had good attitudes this year and excelled as strong offensive teams. We congratulate them for their efforts.

Swimmer Makes Waves

With returning swimmers Nick Marten, Mitch Dulleck, and Dave Stiff, the varsity swim team headed for a placement in CCS. The team opened the season with impressive victories over Saint Francis, Milpitas, and Monta Vista. Junior Rick Gould and sophomores Peter Cazelet and Irby Lovette contributed to the success of the team. Some outstanding first year swimmers were Rob Boyd, Chris Warnock and John Burns. Bruce Nater, a strong team member, was unable to participate the first half of the swim season due to a unfortunate shoulder injury.

Coach Travis Wycoff believes in working hard to achieve team goals. The swim team had double workouts throughout the season. In the morning the team went through rigorous weightlifting programs. In the afternoon the team swam anywhere from a mile and a half to three miles.

Next year, with returning seniors Rick Gould, Rob Boyd, Jim Nam, John Burns and juniors Irby Lovette and Peter Cazelet, the team hopes to place in CCS.

Promising up-and-coming swimmers include Paul Navabpour, Joe Humfeld, Nathan Hope and Brian Band. The outstanding divers Jeff Dunmire, Rich Gillern and Lauren Rauch played an important role in the team's success.

Badminton And Golf Swing To Success

Coach Moser thought this would be a rebuilding season for his badminton team, but after "a surprisingly good start" his predominately young team proved otherwise. Through their diligent hard work at practice, they developed into a highly competitive squad in the SCVAL. Led by Captain Mindy Gee and other outstanding players, the team fought for victory in the league finals against Palo Alto, Gunn, and Wilcox. An outstanding feat for the young team was defeating Prospect High School, an unbeaten team until this year. Coach Moser said, "If this young team finds itself, we should have a pretty good season."

After changing leagues and moving into the SCVAL, Coach Baird, of the golf team, predicted a first place finish for his team. Coach Baird expected no tough competition in the league this year. He stated that a players ability does not usually fluctuate enough to cause major upsets. Knowing the ability of the other golfers in the league, Coach Baird felt the we were the strongest. Led by the five returning seniors: Ross Brook, Eric Warden, Randy Sanchez, Ari Laliotis, Mark Palma, and our newly formed JV team, the golf program at Los Altos continued to improve. Coach Baird enjoyed having the five seniors go through the last four years of the program at L.A. High, and he enjoyed seeing them grow and develop as individuals.

The End

Hi Manny!
I glad you joined the band this year - you're a real asset! Maybe sometime this summer Karen and I will teach you Francais so you'll understand us half the time! Have fun this summer, and I'll see you sometime! Keep laughing!

Bye! Beth

Heidi:
You've been here, you've been there,
Together we've been everywhere,
I loved you then, I love you now,
I'll always love you, no matter how,
How we change, how we grow,
You are special and this I know . . . Cym

Deb, Heath, Heid:
When I see you, my day is made,
When I'm low and about to fade,
You guys make me smile, you make me laugh,
You bring out my better half,
Though I'm difficult and moody too,
You guys must know that I love you . . . Cym.

The Gang: I always wanted a group of friends like you guys. To ski with (yeah Bear!), to party with, to sit and contemplate life with (Lyon's), to be indecisive with, ("what are we going to do? I don't know, whatever everyone wants!"), to feel good with. Love, Dawn.

Linda: Remember the four C's: Communication(to)Cymrot(through) College counts! Dawn.

God is love. Love is blind. Ray Charles is blind. Therefore Ray Charles is god. Eliza S.

There is a beginning. There is not yet beginning to be a beginning. There is a being. There is a non-being. There is a not yet beginning to be a non-being. There is a not yet beginning to be a not yet beginning to be a non-beginning. Suddenly there is being and non-being. But between this being and non-being, I don't know which is really being and which is really non-being. Now, I have said something. But I don't know whether what I have said has really said something or whether it hasn't said something.(whew!)
A serious passage from the Chinese philosopher Chuang Tzu

Jerry & the Wannabeez- We fell for you without a net.
Karen & Robyn

Karen- You are definitely somebody!
And I've got a lot of brothers & sisters

JDW: Psst! Use your fork carefully. That's deep. Lots of love, JAW.

RACE: I'm incarcerated at Foster Farms—send super chicken soon! Yail

Be careful what you dream; it might come true. S.S.

Dear H. and J. Thanks for all the special time we spent together. R.B.

Wish you were here or I was there! Loopy Lou.

Lanie, Billy lives forever. I love you!!! Thanks for everything.

Dear Gali, I'm gonna miss ya! Get rad in Israel!! Luv ya, Meshell.

Jerry- "..."

Reid- You're a great person and body. Love you forever. K.K.

Leslie- Superbowl, RC2, You are a great person if you want to be. K.K.

To really love life is to really live life-David Troyer.

Heidi- Wonder twin. The best sister anyone could ever have. Happy Birthday for years to come. Love, Kirstan.

There are no strangers in the world; only friends you have not met!

Keep on Cruising. Joe S.

Thanks, class of '85. I never cared for the sound of being alone. Jamie.

Mods rule. Eric W.

Siri- have a great two more years and take care! Lai C. Steph.

What my parents don't know won't hurt me. J. Hanmer.

Gali Amir, Kibbutz Neve Eitan, Beit Shean, Israel 10840 Please write!

Gweedo, (HaHa) We partied hearty. Remember Big Basin. Aweoweo LP.

Is a fisherman a fisherman if he never catches a fish? B.H.

To Michelle: situation evaluation, ignore 'em, party in the bathroom, crabs in the pool, Hi, can you buy? The Hill, Hawaii '84 nympho alert, BUSTED, fresca goal, waves, Oingo Boingo at camp. Thanks for the memories, Beth.

Dawn: I always use to wonder who I'd bring to a desert island. Dearly not queerly. The lion sleeps tonight. The stoned food fight (David the sour cream was gross!) Gone with the wind. Fashion was our dance (thank you, Emily, for your patience W/me) The very best you can be, for you I would die. I love you. Sitting by the window, watching the snow fall (makes me think of, em, and bear) Bear Valley was the place, we LOVE backrubs!! The night is silent but the silence, she speaks to us. The Aggies are in trouble; here come the "small town" girls. Shot down in a puff of smoke. S.L.A.B. and all the rest.

Vicki- One thing. "I love you." D.T.

Kirsten K.- "Are you sure I have nice legs?"

Meg T.- Thanks for the leg votes.

Dawn- You give the backrubs.

Chuck- What a waste of a misunderstanding. We have so much fun together, but still there are problems. You would think that we were going out or something. Remember friends are forever D.T.

Jeannie- PLEASE turn off your clothes.

The Gang-not to be elitist but this group is rad. You're everything I would want in friends. You're obnoxious, fun, loving, and sensitive. You are all special in your own way. I'm going to hate saying goodbye. Love always from the bottom of my heart-D.T.

Liz- New years will be talked about for the next few years. D.T.

Heidi- Do you know you're special? I think that you should spend more time appreciating yourself instead of others. I think YOU are special! -Average Human Being.

A.S.B.- Are we elitist snobs, OR do people just misinterpret our love for our school?

"Jello is powder" - John MacKay.

Roses are red, Violets are blue. I'm schizophrenic and so am I - E.L.

Pam- "What's Trivial Pursuit? No, I'm serious." -ASB.

MN Do you like good music? Do you like to dance? Fantasy-Billy Idol.

A real friend walks in when the rest of the world walks out!! Thanks. C.T.

JCW: Dink! Call a Fross, Two great minds . . . I love you, sis. Bye JAW.

Gar., Thanks for a wonderful year. Someday M.G.C.F. I love you. Marina.

K,Uv., Auto: Life is hard and then you die, so . . . enjoy life! Love Kara.

Good-bye LAH, Hello UCD! P.H.C.

Steve Herbert-you are a special guy; don't ever change! Love Kristan.

Eight semi-seniors plus a silver bullet in Sparky! L.W.

Remember: Zero times infinity isn't zero, or ten, or e, or . . .

I got another F. Hi-Poozer, Dave, Siri, Steph, Curt, Julie, Erik, John, Peter! . . . Mikki Mouse

But Mr. Chadda, It's very obvious to me.

Senioritis lives, it thrives, it's claiming seniors' lives; beware who follows the fate, you, too, must graduate.

Junior Killer: Burps, Rose, Rolaids, Donuts- They all last forever! Me.

Kano: Remember sophomore English? You live a hard life and die! Bud.

There is no duty we so much under rated as the duty of being happy.

Robyn Reed: Wada's class was entertaining, Romanesque architecture was intellectually stimulating, and your purse is chaotic disillusionment.

Donna Hetchler, Joy Penn, and Lisa Altera-Let's never forget the great memories of AP English first semester. Hill House is surely the place for repression! -Carol Lee.

MS. Karen C. Irish-How do I tell you what you mean to me without sounding like an idiot . . . How glorious it is-and how painful-to be an exception . . . as exceptions (or so we thought), we were thrown together and our friendship has proved to me that there is no such thing as being an "exception"; there is only being unique. Unique is beautiful, I am glad that I have a friend as you, unique and beautiful. P.S. the camera is in heaven . . .

Success is the window to liberty. -Carol Lee.

The thing that you respect and fear the most, that, too, you will serve.

Stress: (continual) Seven teachers that are convinced that they are the only teachers you have.

Brave new world and I'll show you a world that never dies.

Julieanne-Put wings under your dreams-and they will be real. KI

Hey Ugly! Sheer energy was just too silly to be true! Love ya! K.C.I.

Waltz into my arms, world, and let me be taken into the reality of illusion.

To all of my teachers: Thank you for the education. You did a wonderful job, although you never did realize that I had 6 other classes; however, stress builds character, right?

James:
It happened like we never thought it would,
It seems like you've always understood,
I didn't love you, but now I do,
I'll always love you, and this is true,
College, marriage, and religion as well,
What the future holds one can never tell,
I only hope our friendship can stay.

D.T.- Someday rad backrubs on a desert island on a bed of lettuce! Dawn.

Is true love really ordinary? Is it what we really have?

Quigman, my fellow scooper, H.C., Casa Maria, "Can you sub," men, just 5 more lbs.. Thanks for the memories. Sis Quig.

Liz: Tahoe or Tully Rd. . . . presentations, John,Ron,. . .How swell!!! Identical outfits and, how could I forget? . . .Rally. Thanks for everything, Kena.

Camilla: Fan la fita, Kirsten.

John: My best buddy forever. You still beaned me! The best and the worst times have been shared with you. Love you forever. Tree Lee. D.T.

G.S.: Spaz out, I'm depressed, "Can we talk" College?, You are my special friend whose friendship I cherish the most. Thank you K.C.

Beth(Sarah): Bananarama, Coolers, . . .cops, Rah-rah, "Can I borrow your grey sweater?", S.P., The City . . .H.R. cafe, Bookstores, following men. Thanks for the memories. Kena.

Mark P.-Basketball is the sport, but I never scored in M.B.A.

Vicki- I guess we know that our relationship can't be sustained on third period only. But, they were great while they lasted-I will never forget them.

Bob H.-You are truly "a senior mind stuck in the body of a Jr." Mais,c'est la vie. Stick it out-You'll survive.

Camilla-I am glad you climbed out of your igloo and came to our country. I have some interesting memories of you, that I will never forget.

Liz- It was so much fun under the mistletoe with you. I had a great time with you at dances.

Heidi-We won't be single forever. You are too cool for that.

Dawn-Our Michelangelo presentation was rad. I had so much fun getting to know you. You are such a buddy.

Mindy-I've been friends with you for so long. We have spent countless hours on the phone (shining homework); for this I will always remember you.

Mrs. Claire Pelton- Thank you for teaching me how to write. You are truly an amazing instructor. A teacher of your caliber is a rare commodity- Thank You.

To the gang- You are all so special in your own ways and I love you all for it. I am so happy to be a part of our group, I could not ask for a better group of friends.

Mr. Charles Garoian- Thank you for teaching me how to think, analyze, and express myself (among other things). Also, thank you for being there and listening to my problems.

Sugar Mongolia, she can make happy any man alive. Matt Gray.

We didn't know each other 'till we met and then we were one, but I don't know who you were not you me so we see what we want- but is it there? And what we were- it's not me, but it's us, but not the right us because we don't know each other. A simple misunderstanding certainly- let's know.

Thanx Ho- Ho!

Jerry- I laugh with you as I can laugh with no one else. For this I thank you.

Mark- Use what you have and you will go far- for you have more than you think.

Lee- You could sell a used car to a blind man- so do it.

Rob- I wish I could have known you better by this time; but I know that I am going to know you better and better in the future. Live life just as you are living it.

Ari- There is nothing you can do to keep from succeeding, so don't even try. Thank you for letting me ski behind you- how much I learned.

Jim- Son of the Colonel. We have had many experiences together in our two years (so far) of friendship. I enjoyed them all. But, I didn't tell you how good Yosemite was. HA HA!!

D.T.- I cannot tell you how much you mean to me. You have helped me through so many times of crisis I cannot even begin to count. I couldn't ask for a better friend. I know we will keep in touch when I am at Harvard and you are at Chico. Thank you for being a friend. Love me.

Reid- What a dude. We have had all sorts of skirmishes and we're still alive. They were all great memories.

David G.- President of NSPRAT. You are a unique individual.

Heather- To the All- American girl. If you ever do anything wrong, don't worry about it- you are human too. Have a good life- on me.

I dont care what the world knows about me, but I hope my mother doesn't find out.

Emmanuel: They're pink and green! Got it?

For Sale: One unused and abused European history book. Learn about suppression, opression, depression, and repression. Call Rhea/949-1720.

Yuval: Remember me as I do you, with all the tenderness which is possible to feel for another.

Emily: While I threw the dice (sort of, not really), you skied on the ice. I love you . . .

And in the end, the love you take is the love you Waqueline:-Simply Ripping-Mara.

I can do everything through him who gives me strength. Phil. 4-13.

Bees can't fly. They just think they can, so they do. J.L.

C.L.- Remember the Arby's box forever! Love M.T.

No pain, no gain. Not guts, no glory. No risks, no frisks. H&H '85

G.M., K.M.- Good luck next year; you two will be great editors! -Love, M.T.
Shake and shake the ketchup bottle, none'll come out and then a lot'll.

Heather: "Do we have time?", "I want to sleep on the bed!!", music and wrestling in the living room, (will anyone ever understand us?) "Can you dig it? yea I can dig it un-huh!!", never forget the summer after sophomore year . . . it was special in a sort of silly immature way. Ravin', Holy Botswana, you are more beautiful than you'll ever know, I love you . . .

D.M.- I hope you achieve better than 50% next year. Good Luck! -Love M.T.

D.C., J.S., H.K., A.L., E.B., J.R., L.S., J.H., M.G., D.K., R.S., S.R., J.L., D.T., V.C., M.P., C.J., Thanks for the best times a red-head could ever ask for . . .Heidi Lee . . .

K., Wiebke K., SPB was wonderful. Thanks for being a great friend. Love M.T.

Yearbook photographers: Late nights in the darkroom. the Quake and smelly hands. Chemicals are bad. No paper left. The famous bat. But, it was fun. D.M. Was it?-J.K.

To all Democrats: If you can all decide on a platform, the Republicans club will debate you . . . and win.

You will never see a hearse with a luggage rack. -Don Marek.

From Kimberly-Thanx 4 the memories. Least innocent? Brain cells. What a yearros.

Ari: You can dance. You can make me laugh. You know how to sing. You've got it all. You can charm the birds out of the sky. You can see in the dark (???) You've got it all. But I've got one thing. Gravity's Angel.

H.- we've come a long way, KJ&r. Thanx 4 making it rad. FR. RS.

Kiz, Ady, Trang, Diane: I know this is stupid, but only one more year!

Hube: maybe they will learn how to spell your name. No more French,no more Jim. Rejoice!!! -Donny Meg- I love cardboard people!! thanks for all of your help and support. Luv Gail.

M.S.- You never got caught up!?! Love M.T.

Kena: Where to apply?, Bananarama, getting psyched: S.P. working out, rally camp, H.R., cafe, where's the gas cap? football games Thanks for your friendship. Beth.

Lisa: Sun Valley, eye contact, Slavey's, spooners, sharing lockers, broken mirrors, Forenza jeans, long talks, Bananarama, blind dates, "scamming," Thanks for your support and friendship. I couldn't have survived without you!! Beth.

P.M.- Thanks for being the best editor and a great friend! I hope you never fail! Remember forever 9386. Love M.T.

Jerry and the Wannabeez: The lonely girl in the green room loves both of you very much . . . Because of you, she is a lot less lonely.

-She Won't Change.

S.C.- Thanks for being so supportive! Never commit a crime of passion. Love M.T.

T.P.-S.I.T.S.,did u lstn 2 your records?, Gumby, Eskimo, and Buns Wouldn't that be a combo.See ya!! C.C. parents-ugh!! Luv J.K.

L.P. A special friend. thanx for all you've done/C.P. Never stop smiling, it cheers me up/ B.B. known you all my life. Take my advice. I love ya all./ Things have a way of working out./ To all. Thanx for making this year special. Good luck, '87 Leslie.

J.J.- You dont make my life hard, you enrich it. Love M.T.

M. Thanks so much 4 the past 4 years together; it's been so much fun. I'm glad we've managed to stick through the bad times, because the good times have more than ballanced them out! I hope that you'll always remember me. -Love T.S.

H.R. Even though you can't be trusted, I trust you. M.T.

K.I. You must live for the present; the past is gone, the future continues to be just that . . . you have no choice to make except to dwell over things that you have no control over or make the most of life. Come with me and let us enjoy. J.K.

Hewy and Dewy will miss Louie, but thank Donald Duck that his family was broken up . . . or am I counting my ducks before they hatch? . . . we've got 1 more year!!!!

- John Helson

Heidi- These were a heck of alot of fun!! Next year?? Julieanne

A Word Of Thanks

We on the yearbook staff would like to dedicate this 1985 Aerie to Mrs. Jeanne Geselschap. Mrs. "G", as she is affectionately known, was the hard-working and diligent advisor to the staff for nineteen years, until she chose to give up her position at the end of last year. We will miss her expertise, but above all, we thank her for her love and sense of humor which made the yearbook what it has been for so many years.

Mannysnake! snake! snake! snake!
Partying with you was SO RAD!
that was so much fun - we're going have to do that again sometime soon!
You're such a sweet guy - if it wasn't for that party we wouldn't have met, so I guess we should be grateful, huh?!
Give me a call over the summer & we'll definitely do something. Have a good one.

Biology totally sucked!
If I pass I'll totally Party! I'll always remember the lessons with Mr. Beattel. Those were the best days. Never forget the farm, the pear +
the plants Ros pulled out!
Yes I will also remember them also. But anyways have a
